

Lights Project Update – August 26

Friday, 28 August 2009

The next stage of work on the lights will now start on Monday September 14, after successful negotiations with the contractors. This means we will have normal floodlighting until then, and we will probably lose all lights for that week from September 14.